- Listen to why you are seeking Bible Tutoring or Coaching
- Give you an overview of the coaching/tutoring process.
- Discuss your relationship with Jesus and your understanding of the Bible.
- Answer any questions you may have about the Tutoring or Coaching process.

By the end of your time together, you will clearly understand the biblical coaching/tutoring processes to determine if Bible Coaching is right for you in helping to grow your Christian faith and Bible knowledge.

As a potential client, and by booking this appointment, you are requesting and consenting to receiving a conversation that uses the Bible, the discussion of the Gospel, and Christian faith as its primary tool during the Discovery Let's Chat session.

Please note that there will be minimal coaching/tutoring during this Zoom session. The Discovery Let's Chat session is meant for you, the potential Client, to meet Coach Luna, ask questions, and understand what happens within a session. Coach Luna will listen and ask questions to gain a baseline understanding of where you are in your relationship with Jesus and your understanding of the Bible. The information gained during the session will be used to create a personalized tutoring and coaching plan for you to use in future sessions.
